Dear Sirs:

Coins arrived all right, but you must certainly have made a mistake & sent me the wrong coin in lot #736 as you catalogue it as very fine while this coin is only good on obverse & about fine on reverse. It has been worn as a charm and looks like a coin that has been in circulation for 10 or 15 years. The milling on edge is worn perfectly smooth in two places and there is a X scratched on obverse behind the head. A loop has been removed and the damaged place soldered over with copper colored gold which shows very plainly in contrast with the Yellow gold - The Obverse is also out of center. If it was not on account of it being a rare date I would not place such a coin in my collection.

as it is, it is not worth more than $25.00 to me and I would only hold it until I could secure a better one and then dispose of it at the same price I paid for it if possible. I would rather pay $40.00 to $50.00 for a very fine one than $25.00 for one in this condition. Soon as I hear from you will make returns.

Respt'fly
H.O. Mann

Address every thing to me at Room 226 Coronado Bldg, and not to Hotel Abbott as the last package was addressed.

Dear Sirs:

Enclosed I return the coins received to day. When I sent you my check for $99.38 in payment for the coins that were in satisfactory condition I received the most insulting letter from you that I ever received in my life. and do not care to have any further business relations with you in any way whatever.

Dear Sirs:

About two weeks ago I sent you a Dollar for the priced catalogue of the Mills Sale, but have not received it yet, unless I get it within the next two or three days it will be of no use to me, and you might just as well return the Dollar as I would not give 5cts for a catalogue unless I have a chance to bid on the sale

Catalogue just received and will send some bids but suppose they are too late. Kindly overlook unreasonable bids as I only spent about an hour where I should have taken two or three days.

There was a great many other coins would liked to have bid on but did not have time to investigate
